3.9599% Gets BAWI Bonds

First National Bank of Memphis, Tenn., was successful bidder on Bay St. Louis' $300,000 BAWI bond issue to finance the new plant for the enameling division of Industrial Electric, Inc., now under construction on Central Avenue.

City Commission Council Monday accepted the bank's low average interest bid of 3.9599 per cent from the four firms bidding on the issue. City officials expressed satisfaction with the interest rate, having calculated their costs on a four per cent basis. E. M. Brignac, president of Industrial Electric, also agreed to the price which was necessary for sale arrangements to proceed.

Others bidding were Alvis Co. of Jackson at an average of 4.12666 per cent; Arnold and Derbes of New Orleans at 3.9668 and Scharff and Jones at 3.99035.

City Clerk J. Cyril Glover presided at the session since Mayor John A. Scalfie's plane had been grounded by weather on his way back from an Eastern trip. He flew in later in the afternoon and completed signing of the necessary papers which were forwarded immediately to the city's bond attorneys, Charles and Trauernicht in St. Louis, Mo.

Glover said he expects resolutions related to the sale should be returned by the lawyers in time for council to adopt them at the next regular meeting Jan. 2 along with bond indentures so that copies can be sent to prospective bidders on the printing of the bonds. It is planned to use a Mississippi firm for this, the practice Brignac has followed on all dealings with construction of the plant.

Albert S. Johnson, vice president of the Memphis bank who submitted the bid, secured a breakdown on the interest by phoning his headquarters after the bid was accepted. Bonds maturing in 1963 through 1973 will carry 3 1/4 per cent, and those in 1974-77 at 3 3/4 per cent, and those in 1978-87 at four per cent.

The bid also provides for supplemental coupons on outstanding bonds which Johnson said make them more attractive to purchasers of bond maturing early. This provides for $5 in the period of 8-1-62 to 2-1-63 and $2.50 for the period 8-1-63 to 2-1-64.

Also on the industrial electric front, final payment of $6,500 to Jack Adams was approved for installation of the gas pipeline from the new plant to the station on Uman Avenue, Glover reporting that tests had shown it satisfactory. He disclosed that drilling on the water well at the plant site was down to 980 feet of the 1,200 to go with a good flow.

In other action, council approved a $10,000 loan from Gulf National Bank of Gulfport to meet the December payroll of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District after Commissioner of Finance Warren Traub said he could lead the system $21,000 from current payments to make up its request for $31,000.

Bay Building Passes Half Million Mark

Construction in Bay St. Louis has already topped the half-million dollar mark for 1961, City Commissioner of Public Utilities J. Cyril Glover reported this week.

He said building permits issued through Monday ran to $533,610, with the huge Industrial Electric enameling plant making up more than half the total.

Moore to Direct Buying

Orrelle B. Moore has been named real estate project manager for the land acquisition program for the Mississippi Test Facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Col. D. A. Raymond, Army District Engineer at Mobile, announced this week.

The Corps of Engineers will open a real estate project office about the middle of January on Main Street adjacent to Kin Dollar Store where renovations and additions are now underway.

Moore said that expected peak personnel strength in the office will be between 25 and 30 employees. The office will be staffed by transfer, reinstatement, and recruiting of personnel. All hiring will be in accordance with Civil Service Regulations. The Mobile district is handling the property acquisition and Moore will be in direct charge.

A native of Central Alabama, Moore has resided in Mobile practically all of his life, and has over 20 years service with the engineers. He will reside in Bay St. Louis or vicinity.

An informational booklet describing the acquisition program was recently distributed in the area. Landowners and tenants who own property or reside within the limits of the project and who have not received their copy may obtain the booklet by writing to the District Engineer, P.O. Box 1169, Mobile, Ala.

The Postoffice box number for the Bay St. Louis Office will be announced shortly.

N. Central Addition Costs Eyed

The county board of education considered cost angles for its proposed addition to Hancock North Central School at a recessed meeting Saturday, much of which was occupied with a hassle over the perennial transportation headaches.

Signing of the contract with Architect Dalton B. Shourds for the expansion program was deferred until the Jan. 2 meeting so Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, could be present to advise trustees on various details.

Shourds said his preliminary plans call for 3,995 square feet of building in the elementary division and 1,760 square feet of covered passageways which on (Cont. on Page 4.)

1-Car Crash on 90 Fatal to Dad of 5

Christmas has no cheer for five Bay St. Louis children and their mother as a result of a one-car accident Tuesday in which Lewis F. Kempf, 40, was killed about 5:15 p.m. Kempf, driving alone, was returning from a meeting in New Orleans when his car hit the northwestern abutment of the U. S. 90 bridge over West Pearl River, a few miles west of the state line and turned over.

Eye witnesses reported that Kempf was driving at a moderate speed when his car slowly veered to the left, struck the railing and overturned. Indications are that he suffered a heart attack. The Echo was unable to contact Trooper Charles Pope or Lt. Everett Edwards of the Louisiana State Police, who investigated, for details.

The victim, a native of Hazlehurst had resided in Bay St. Louis for several years.

Survivors include his widow, the former Marjorie Smith; two sons, Lewis F. and James Davis; and three daughters, Marjorie Ann, Mary Lou and Jo Ellen, all of Bay St. Louis; his parents, John L. Kempf and Mrs. Cora Wilson Kempf; five brothers, J. W. Kempf, Houston, Tex.; John L. Kempf, London, England; John L. Kempf, Jr., Auburn, Ala.; Robert Kempf, Nashville, Tenn.; (Cont. on Page 8.)

Waveland Pair Hurt In Mishap

Serious injuries were suffered last Thursday by Mrs. W. F. Van Calsem and Mrs. Edward Foyard, both of Waveland, when Mrs. Van Calsem's 1961 Falcon struck a tree on U. S. 90 in Long Beach near Gulf Park Junior College.

Claude Miller, Long Beach officer who investigated, said the accident apparently resulted when Mrs. Van Calsem lost control of her car when it was hit by a 1953 Buick driven by T. D. Mayes, Gulfport, when Mayes entered U. S. 90 from a private drive.

Mrs. Van Calsem and Mrs. Foyard were admitted to Gulfport Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Van Calsem reportedly suffering from chest and leg injuries, a fractured cheekbone and lost teeth, while Mrs. Foyard was found to have a broken leg, broken hip, chest injuries and lacerations.

SIGNS THAT ST. NICK SOON WILL BE HERE - Holiday packages from afar keep the local Postoffice staff swamped as usual this Yuletide season. Trying to decide the speediest method of getting this new load out are, from left, Curtis Favre, Curtis Ladner and Donald Cuevas. The Postoffice will be open till 5 p.m. Saturday to help expedite the last minute rush.

Yule Church Plans Listed

Churches throughout Hancock County will herald the birth of the Christ Child with special services Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will celebrate solemn high mass at Midnight Sunday, Christmas Eve. Masses on Christmas Day, Monday, will be said at 6, 7, 8:30, 10 and 11:30 a.m. but there will be no service in the evening.

Confessions will be heard Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. Parishioners are reminded that Friday and Saturday are days of fast and abstinence and no meat is allowed either day.

At missions of Our Lady of the Gulf, the Christmas schedule is:

Holy Cross Mission at Bayou LaCrosse, confessions at 6:30 a.m. and mass at 7; St. Henry's, confessions at 8 a.m. and mass (Cont. on Page 4.)

Christmas Services Set By Protestant Churches

Most Protestant churches in the county will confine their Christmas services to regular Sunday services, that being Christmas Eve and since the birthday of the Prince of Peace falls on Monday this year.

Lone church to schedule a Christmas Day service is Christ Episcopal Church where holy communion will be celebrated at 11 a.m. with a sermon and music by the junior choir. Rev. Charles Johnson, rector, also will have the traditional Christmas Eve service beginning at 11:30 p.m. Sunday with communion, a sermon and the senior choir singing.

Holy communion also will be celebrated at Christ Church at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, St. Stephen's Day, at 10 a.m. Wednesday, St. John the Evangelist Day, at 7:30 a.m. Thursday, Holy Innocents Day, and at 10 a.m. on New Year's Day.

The congregation of First Presbyterian Church will move into their new building on the former E. S. Drake property on Uman Avenue Sunday with Sunday School at 10 a.m. worship at 11 a.m. and the Joy Gift service at 4:30 p.m. Special music to be planned for the occasion by Mrs. Robert Teague and Rev. E. A. Lindsey, ministers, will preach.

Kenneth Teague of Houston, Tex., drew the plans for the church. The present unit will be used as a Sunday School in addition to providing a beautiful sanctuary. As the community grows and the church needs more room, this unit will provide the room needed. The church is so planned and placed that the main sanctuary will be built to the west of the new unit.

Some fixtures remain to be installed in the building and for-

Santa Flies in Saturday for Legion Party

Santa Claus will pay a special visit to Bay St. Louis Saturday afternoon when he arrives in seaplane from the American Legion Home's beach to greet youngsters at the annual Christmas party staged by Post 12 and the Star Theater.

Roy Baxter has his amphibious craft weathered up for the charter flight from the North Pole to fly Santa to the Bay according to John D. Rutherford, chairman for the Legion affair.

Felix Seeger who is program director has asked all Legionnaires to assist with the event which will get under way with free movie for children of the county at 1:30 p.m. at the theater. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scalfie, proprietors, will distribute popcorn.

In the Pearl River section children of Logtown and neighboring communities will enjoy the fifth annual Christmas Tree Party sponsored by the Diamond Masonic Lodge at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the school.

We're Growing

A new service station handling Standard Oil Co. of Ky. products opened Monday at the corner of Washington and Third Streets. It is operated by Les Moran.

FINAL GRAY - Hester Blaine, second from right, building inspector for the Hancock Finance Commission, checked over Bay High School's new industrial arts building. Final formal approval before the school board accepts it for use. Among city and school officials on the tour were Superintendent J. D. McCullough and Trustees Sam Whittier and Hamilton. Equipment already is being moved in and classes will be held there when the recess is over.

Best Tranquilizer

"Thank gosh Christmas comes but once a year" is a line for a song many will remember, and sometimes we think we would like to play that line over and over, particularly about this time. There are presents to buy (and what could Aunt Susie want), there are oodles of cards to be addressed, signed and mailed (what, honey, is Jim and Alice's address), the Christmas lights won't work, shopping takes longer because of crowds and choices get less each day (next year I promise I'll shop early and be prepared) and, and, and, . . . But isn't it really a wonderful season, notwithstanding? Of more of us, more of the time, had just a little bit more of the generous feeling Christmas engenders, wouldn't we all be a whole lot better off? At Christmas, it seems we think more of others' problems than we do the rest of the year. . . . The Berlin crisis, the threat of devastating world-wide warfare, Congo's troubles are still with us as they were last Christmas, and other flares, such as India's invasion of Portuguese Goa, continue to crop up, but such depressing thoughts would bother us less if year round we would remember the birthday of "the Prince of Peace".

Two Stadiums?

For some time it has been obvious that Bay High School needs an athletic field. The school system owns the necessary land, bought with this project in mind, and at least an athletic field by the next school year appears certain. Superintendent of Education Joe D. McCulloch and several on the board of the separate municipal school system feel that the athletic field project should be expanded to a stadium. At present Bay High is somewhat of an orphan. It has no home field but uses St. Stanislaus College's field on an if available basis. The disadvantage to Bay High was strikingly illustrated this fall when they scheduled their homecoming game on an open date for St. Stanislaus. Then shortly before homecoming St. Stanislaus scheduled a game for Friday night. Bay High would have been out in the cold, except St. Stanislaus succeeded in prevailing on their opponent to play the game on Saturday instead of Friday. From St. Stanislaus' standpoint, it owns the stadium, the small amount that Bay High pays for its use, $75 a game for night football game, has little financial profit to the owner for payment for lighting the field and furthermore the school is not in the business of renting stadiums. Nevertheless, it is economically foolish for Bay St. Louis to have two stadiums. Cities ten times the population of the Bay-Waveland area and financially better off frequently have only one stadium. Bleachers, lights, dressing rooms, etc., cost a great deal more than the playing field itself. With the capital outlays now in prospect for this area resulting from creation of the Mississippi Testing Facility of NASA, economic takes on an added importance. To us there seems to be at best only three solutions to Bay High's problems: (1) the school to build its own stadium as proposed; (2) the City of Bay St. Louis, by eminent domain proceedings, to purchase St. Stanislaus' stadium and lease it to the schools on a first come, first served basis; and (3) Bay High and Stanislaus to reach some firm agreement for mutual use of St. Stanislaus' facility at a realistic cost to Bay High other than the pittance now paid but with Bay High knowing it stood and not begging. There are valid objections to all three suggestions, but, either other solution could be worked out, we think the building of a stadium for Bay High should not be undertaken this time.

Sheriff Gerald Price now knows what he wants for Christmas and it's not a new front tooth. It's the radar he now demonstrated here Monday.

REBEL COMMANDER—John D. Rutherford, Jr., commanding officer of Co. C, Hancock County Rebels which have been reactivated for the Civil War Centennial observance, displays to two of his offspring, Jeff and Jan, the Confederate uniform he will wear for centennial programs. Uniforms for the local outfit were ordered last May with delivery promised in six weeks but arrived only two weeks ago. With about half the company now on federal duty with the National Guard unit from here, officials are wondering how to proceed with their plans. (P.S.—Rutherford has been on a rigorous diet since he was measured for the outfit and finds it a trifle loose.)

Sheriff Denies Restraint in New Johnson Plea

An answer denying that Carl E. Johnson and Mary Johnson were being held unlawfully was filed yesterday by Clyde Hurlbert, assistant district attorney representing Sheriff Gerald Price, in the habeas corpus proceeding brought in Federal District Court last week by the Johnsons. Petitioners alleged that their civil rights were being violated.

Both Johnsons were convicted last Feb. 13 before Justice of the Peace Neilus Rhodes of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and running a house of prostitution. Subsequently on March 29, Carl Johnson was convicted in circuit court of attempted jail break. Two prior petitions for writ of habeas corpus have been heard by state Circuit Judge Leslie Grant and denied.

School Board . . .

 on basis of $7.50 per square foot for the building proper and $5 for the covered walks would run to $38,762; or at a $7 and $4 figuring to $35,885. Adding two rooms to the high school division on the same bases would push overall cost to $58,333 or $54,025.

Superintendent K. G. McCarty indicated concern with these figures in view of the limited funds the board anticipates for the project.

McCarty suggested a secret session on the bus personnel matter but Trustee E. P. Orte said he saw no reason for that and a hearing commenced on various allegations of treatment of buses, their use and personalities.

Trustee Louis Nescise questioned mileage turned in on athletic trips, saying it was excessive. While McCarty noted the athletic field footed the bill for these trips, rather than the board, Nescise argued against the practice which he said was robbing the children.

Trustee S. P. Powell noted that at its last meeting, apparently during the secret portion, the board had given Principal Leo Rouse full authority in dealing with North Central bus matters and called on personnel in general and the board to strive for better cooperation.

Phillips, who arrived late after discharge from the hospital where he had been treated for recurrence of a back injury suffered while bowling, advised the board it could grant use of a school bus to take retarded children to special classes in Gulfport and the board approved this request.

Transfer was authorized of up to $5,000 to meet the December teacher's payroll since the amount of the sheriff's settlement was not known and the state has been running behind this year on its payments. Phillips suggested the board should be concerned with Gov. Ross Barnett's budget which tops $3.3 million off schools' allocation for next year.

Loren Nescise, who was laid off as a bus driver when the two new big buses went into operation, was hired as temporary janitorial assistant at North Central while the present janitress is ill and 1961-62 driver contracts were signed. Charles B. Murphy presided and all members were present.

Admission will be said Christmas Eve at St. Rose de Lima Church and a mass is scheduled at 8 a.m. on Christmas Day.

Stolen Car Found

This Walk Paid Off

It's quite fortunate for a Perry, Ind., resident that 15-year-old Jewel Bourne, Jr., of Nicholson Avenue went for a bike through the woods last Saturday. In the thick underbrush on a road in Shoreline Park, Jewel came upon a beautiful pale blue 1960 Cadillac. He went home and reported to the family who were rather disbelieving so his brother-in-law, Donald Carver, and a cousin, James Nescise, went back to check. The find was verified and the sheriff's office was notified.

Harry Hears...

LSU, Chargers Get Warning

Mr. Football must frown upon this column! Last week, a large section of "Harry Hears" was devoted to the five bowl games pitting Northern and Southern football squads. We talked big about how Baylor's win over Utah State in the Gotham Bowl Dec. 9 made southern football look good, and what happened? This past week, Northern teams defeated Dixie eleven in both contests played.

No Liberty for Us

The South, however, and especially Florida, has no reason to hide their heads as far as the Liberty Bowl goes. Miami University went into the game a six-point underdog to Syracuse, and Syracuse escaped with a one-point victory, coming from 14 points behind to do it. Twice, in the first half, passes by Miami's George Mira, a sophomore quarterback who, barely eluded the outstretched arms of All-American end Bill Miller on what would have been sure touchdowns.

Miami took the lead when Syracuse was caught dumbfounded by the running of fullback Jim Vollenweider. The Orange apparently had read all about the Mira-Miller passing combination and concentrated their whole defense around it. Successfully, too, we might add. But, Vollenweider surprised everyone by rapping the line with power and speed for one good gain after another and scored the first touchdown on an 11-yard burst through the middle of the Syracuse line.

The second Miami touchdown came with less than 30 seconds remaining in the half, and was on an excellent 60 yard kick pass upped the margin to 14-0.

Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis was too much for the Hurricanes to handle in the second half, and quarterback Dave Sarrette smartly balanced his rushing attack with pin-point passing, throwing chiefly to glue-fingered Craig Easterly, a former second-string quarterback who discovered he could catch as well as throw. Davis was the star, however, and two touchdowns, a two-point pass, and an extra point from placement told the story. Miami never gave up, though, and stopped another Syracuse rally later in the game, but ran out of time before they could get started again.

Bashed by Bonnet

Rice's performance in the Bluebonnet Bowl was about as startling as their performance against LSU in September, only in a different way. The Owls were playing in their home stadium in Houston in the Bowl game, had a partial crowd in their favor, and were favored to beat Kansas, only Kansas didn't know it and with quarterback John Hadl and some powerful runners leading the way whipped the Owls 33-7.

An interesting sidelight about the game is that Colorado, LSU's opponent in the Orange Bowl, defeated Kansas 20-19. The Tigers, 14 1/2 point favorites to beat Colorado New Years Day, had better watch out.

Saturday's Bowl games proved one thing for sure: Weather makes a big difference in attendance of even bowl games. The climate wasn't perfect in Houston, but a large crowd watched the Bluebonnet Bowl in fair weather. In Philadelphia, snow and ice covered the ground and only 15,000 turned out to see what might be the best, at least one of the best of the post-season games. The result: The Bluebonnet Bowl will be back next year while the Liberty Bowl looks doubtful.

Charger Strategy

The American Football League Championship will be decided Sunday afternoon at San Diego, when the Houston Oilers and San Diego Chargers, kingpins of the eastern and western divisions of the league, collide in what could turn into a terrific football game.

The Chargers routed the Oilers early in the year at San Diego and the Oilers clobbered the Chargers later in Houston. The championship game is the rubber game.

The Chargers will base their attack around quarterback Jack Kemp's strong passing arm and halfback Paul Lowe's strong running legs. Fullback Charlie Flowers of Ole Miss fame will also be around to add support to the running game.

The Oilers have, in our opinion, the two best quarterbacks in the league, the league's top runner, the top two ends, the best defensive line in the conference, and the AFL's best defensive secondary. We think they'll make mince meat out of the Chargers. George Blain is without a doubt the best quarterback in the league, and Billy Cannon (Did you say Cannon) was crowned rushing leader last week.

Don't be fooled by the Chargers' 41-0 loss to the Boston Patriots last week. They won't admit it because it would get them in trouble, but we think San Diego wanted to lose the game. A win for Boston over San Diego and a loss for Houston last week would have tied Houston and Boston for the Eastern lead and forced a playoff this week for the right to meet San Diego. Had Boston then luckily upset the Oilers, the Chargers would get to play a much weaker team, and even if Houston won the playoff game, the Oilers might possibly have some key players injured. Only one flaw prevented San Diego's plan coming through—Houston didn't want to cooperate. The Oilers beat Oakland 47-16. Good try, Chargers!

Rocks Provide Surprises

The Stanislaus Rockchaws continue to roll along as the surprise team of the area. Excluding Tuesday's game with St. John, Brother Ralph's charges have a 5-2 record.

With only two letters remaining, the Rocks were not figured to have much this season, but led by all-around star Waldo Caceres who is averaging over 14.1 points per game and center Mike Gore who is hitting at just about the same pace, they've lost only to rugged Piquette and St. John.

Stanislaus doesn't have a high-scoring quintet, but as usual is well-coached with a good defense. Noddy Lader has been the big surprise of the team, averaging about 10 points per game.

Bay High Tuesday night kept alive a record in that the Tigeros have not lost a regular season game at home in two-and-a-half years. The Bengals have won only once on the road this season and have been defeated five times, but at the friendly local gym, Bay High is 3-0.

Hawks, Gold Jays Tops

North Central and St. Joseph are still probably the best teams in the area. The Hawks have been getting high scoring from several different players, and have enough talent to substitute freely. Center Lionel Hoda and guard Eugene Lader have been two of the leading point-gainers for the Hawks in early games.

North Central will have a tough time going all the way to Jock-son for the State Tourney this year because of the other good schools in the Gulf Coast Conference they'll have to beat first. There's the Gulf Coast Conference they'll have to beat first. There's the Gulf Coast Conference they'll have to beat first. There's the Gulf Coast Conference they'll have to beat first.

SJA has lost three games lately and now is 12-3, but the Gold Jays have had a much better balanced scoring attack in recent games. Forwards Cassie Rhodes and Judy Favre have been adding points to the still-high total of Mary Jo Krieger, averaging about 25 points a game, and Margo Jacobs leading the guard corps, although Eran Arjures, another good guard, hasn't played recently because of an injury.

total. This compares with $291,479.50 when the biggest permit was $40,000 for Bay Bowling Center.

The new industrial area building at Bay High School was another substantial permit but the bulk of building was of a residential nature with new homes and repairs or additions to existing ones.

Win Two More

Rocks Keep Rolling

St. Stanislaus Rockchaws continued to roll along last week, picking up their fourth and fifth basketball triumphs of the season against only two defeats, scoring wins over Our Lady of Victory 58-44 and St. Bernard 54-50.

The Rockchaws downed OLV last Wednesday night behind a good scoring performance by letterman Mike Gore. The Rocks took an 11-10 first quarter lead and led the rest of the way, holding a 27-20 advantage at halftime, and a 44-32 lead after three periods.

Gore turned in his highest total of the year with 23 points, and forward Wayne Carr also hit double figures, scoring 12 markers. High scorer Waldo Caceres was held to his lowest point production of the year, managing only seven. Mancrist and Roderick of OLV each scored 17 points.

The Rockchaw junior varsity picked up another win in the opener of the night's doubleheader or 31-28. Curtis Matherne was high scorer for SSC with nine points.

Brother Ralph's Rockchaw varsity blew a big lead in the final quarter of Sunday's St. Bernard game in Stanislaus Gym, and won a thriller in overtime.

The Rocks took a 17-14 lead in the opening quarter and led 17-20 at halftime. Stanislaus pulled away to a 37-29 lead at the end of the third stanza but a 21-point fourth quarter enabled St. Bernard to tie the score at 50-50 as the final whistle blew ending regulation time. The Rockchaws won in the overtime, scoring four points on two free throws by Mike Gore, one by Waldo Caceres, and one charity toss by Noddy Lader as St. Bernard went scoreless.

In the opening JV game, St. Stanislaus won 25-20 for their fifth win of the season against one defeat. Curtis Matherne again led the Rock scoring with 10 points.

The Hawks, trailing by two points most of the first half, were behind 28-26 at halftime, but finished strong behind the shooting of Berlin Lader who accounted for 21 points and O. J. Peterson who tossed in 19.

Eugene Lader got into the double figures for the first time with 12 points and Lionel Hoda contributed 11.

Paul Lader was high for Harrison Central with 16.

While the Hawkettes lost again 70-46, Coach Billy Sills declared they are improving considerably and should get in the win column soon. Debra Lanning was high for Harrison with 36 points while Janell Lader led the North Central girls with 26.

A meeting with Pearl River Central is on the Hawk calendar at home tonight. After a brief Christmas rest, the squads will go Dec. 29 to Bogue Chitto where Sills coached for two years before coming to North Central.

Caceres, Fee, Aucoin Make Catholic Squad

Three St. Stanislaus players Monday were elected to the second annual Gulf Coast All-Catholic football squad. The team is composed of players from St. John's of Gulfport, Notre Dame of Biloxi, OLV of Pascagoula, and St. Stanislaus.

Elected from the local school are senior Waldo Caceres, leading scorer for the Rocks at a halfback post, Larry Fee, 210-pound junior tackle, and Paul Aucoin, 175 pound junior guard. It was Caceres's second year on the squad.

Coaches from the four schools also named Les Patrick of Our Lady of Victories Coach of the Year.

Other players nominated for the all-Catholic 11 from St.

Stanislaus were center Mike Mashburn and halfback Donald Smith.

Rester-Odom Vows Spoken At Leetown

Miss Hazel Ann Odom, daughter of Mrs. Karel K. Odom, became the bride of Larry Wayne Rester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rester, a ceremony at 8 p.m. last Saturday at Lee's Chapel No. 2 Baptist Church. Rev. A. K. Kirkland officiated at the double ring ceremony before an ivy-wreathed arch trimmed with white poinsettias. Arrangements of white gladioli flanked the arch and tall white candles lighted the sanctuary.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Chester C. Lee. Her gown was designed with a white satin skirt and a front panel of imported lace, the lace bodice featured a sweet-heart neckling. The long sleeves ended in points over the hand. Her shoulder length veil was on Alencon lace and she carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Margaret Jean Kirkland of Rt. 2, Carriere, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She was in a blue tulle with three-quarter length sleeves and a rounded neckline. She wore a blue velvet headpiece, matching accessories and white carnations at the shoulder. Little Rebecca Johnson of Rt. 2, Carriere, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. James Rester of Rt. 3, Picayune, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Leon Lee of Jackson and Glenn Stockstill of Rt. 3, Picayune.

A reception followed at the Chester Lee home which was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and greenery. A white lace cloth was used on the bride's table which held the three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with pink roses and encircled with greenery. Lime punch was served from a bowl. Miss Jennifer Odom, sister of the bride, kept the bride's book. Others assisting in caring for the guests were Mrs. Frank McNeese, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Seals, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. B. J. Johnson, aunt of the bride.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Hattiesburg, the bride changed to a blue wool outfit with black accessories and white carnations at the shoulder. They will be at home in Leetown on their return.

The bride is employed at Movie Star, Inc., in Poplarville and the groom is with Marine Service in Morgan City, La. About those from out of town attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNeese, Jr., and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Seals and children, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Minarik and children, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Megehee, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Megehee and Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Kirkland and children.

Newtons Spend Yule in Naples On NATO Duty

Maj. Allan D. Newton, son of Col. and Mrs. Cherubusco Newton of 142 Beach Blvd., Waveland, will spend Christmas in the Italian port city of Naples, where he is serving at the Headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Allied Forces in Southern Europe.

He and his family will join hundreds of Italian, French, Greek and British military personnel and their families and friends in re-creating the seasonal proverb—"Peace on Earth Good Will to Men."

Major Newton is a NATO staff officer with this integrated southern European allied command which forms the defensive right flank of the NATO countries. The command is responsible for the defense of 84 million people in Italy, Greece and Turkey.

Traditional Christmas meals and brightly decorated trees will be a part of the holiday spirit. During the festivities at the headquarters, families of the various nations became acquainted with each other's Christmas customs. The major attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., and received a BA degree from Sacramento (Calif.) State College. He and his wife, the former Halene A. Peirce of Carney's Point, N. J., have four children.

MISS JANICE BANKSTON Clermont Girl to Wed Mr. Parker

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Birch Bankston of Clermont Harbor of the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Janice Louise, to Howard Leslie Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Givens Parker of Bay St. Louis.

The wedding is planned at 10 a.m. Saturday at Clermont Harbor Methodist Church with Bishop W. M. Finn of New Orleans officiating. A reception will follow in the church parlor.

Miss Caroline Geneva Bourgeois will be maid of honor and Miss Laura Lohner will be bridesmaid. Raymond Lizana will serve as best man with Billy McConnell as groomsmen. August Usher, Jr., and Harold Crouch will usher.

Miss Bankston was graduated from Bay High School in 1958 as valedictorian of her class. She was an honor student at Pearl River Junior College from which she was graduated in 1960 and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Mississippi Southern College. She is presently teaching the seventh and eighth grades at St. Joseph Academy.

Her fiancé was educated at John McDonough School in New Orleans and served a tour of duty in the Army. He is now employed at W. A. McDonald and Sons.

New Pastor Comes For Church of God

Rev. W. D. Sumrall has assumed duties as pastor of the Church of God on St. John Street, moving here from Pascagoula, succeeding Rev. J. M. Jeanovich.

With his wife and four children, Roger, David, Wayne and Sharron, he is residing in a trailer at Wheel Inn.

The church will present a Christmas play at 7:30 p.m.

LAKE SHORE LOG

BY MRS. MALCOLM GREEN NO 7-5816

Our Christmas spirit was dampened this past week with the passing of Malcolm's aunt Mrs. Jeannine Garcia of Clermont Harbor. "Ma Ma" as she was affectionately known to all had been in and out of the hospital and nursing homes for several years. Mrs. Olivia Green is now the only one of the Roth family left.

Religious services were conducted by Rev. Bill Finnman who came over from Felicity St. Methodist Church in New Orleans. Burial took place in Lakeshore Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stoufflet, accompanied by Monroe and Nellie Garcia, and sons Cary and Austin, drove to Baton Rouge Sunday to attend the golden wedding celebration of Mr. Stoufflet and Mrs. Garcia's sister and brother-in-law Rev. and Mrs. John Bonnacarre. Mrs. Ben Peterson another sister came from New Orleans for this happy event.

On the way home the rain and severe lightning forced the Stoufflets to pull off to the side of the road several times, for safety's sake.

Our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery who lost their only child and son Saturday evening in Hancock General.

Children of Lakeshore Methodist Church will present a tableau, The Christmas Story, Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Church. At this time members will exchange gifts and the children of members will get presents from Santa.

Don't forget the party at Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center for the younger children of members and children of Gulfview School to be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at Clermont School.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riggs of the Bay are coming home. They have bought a piece of land from Mrs. Riggs' sister, Mrs. Ruth Rhodes, and will build a home here soon. Welcome back!

To wish each and every one a very happy Christmas and a Loiacano, Watts in PRC Who's Who

Two Bay St. Louis students at Pearl River Junior College were among the 25 elected in the Who's Who balloting on the campus.

Bill Watts was named most likely to succeed who while J. E. Loiacano won two titles, best all-around and best athlete.

Saturday, Mr. Sumrall said, Services Sunday will include Sunday School at 10 a.m. and worship meeting is at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Lighting Entries Slow

Twenty members of the last year's class are expected to be in the annual Christmas lighting contest of Bay - Wave-land Garden Club.

Officials reported entries were coming in slowly and hoped this was due only to the rain and messy weather.

Deadline to register for the various classifications is 5 p.m. Sunday and entries should be telephoned to Mrs. Philip Hayes or Mrs. C. R. Beyer at HO-7-5358.

Judging will take place Christmas night and handsome prizes will be offered for the best display of outdoor lighting and holiday decorations, outdoor tree, doorway, window, porch tree and roof top in the residential division as well as for a business display.

Tigers Eliminated In St. Martin Play

Bay High's Tigers won their third game of the season, but also dropped their fifth last week in action in the St. Martin Basketball Tournament in Biloxi. The Tigers were eliminated in the semi-final round by the host squad.

Coach Wilmer Seymour's Bengals scored a big victory Thursday night in first-round play, downing East Central 61-43 although the Tigers never actually led by a large margin until the final quarter. Bay High grabbed a 10-7 first quarter lead and increased it to 28-23 in the second quarter when both squads had their hottest shooting periods. Bay High continued to score good in the third stanza and led 45-36 going to the fourth quarter. A 16 point effort and a good defensive performance helped the Bengals pull away to an easy verdict.

Guard Ronnie Peterson, 6'0" tall, was the high-point man for Bay High, scoring 28 markers. Guard Leroy Luke was the only other Tiger hitting double-figures with 12 points. Forward William Peirce scored nine points, forward Richard Schaefer eight and forward Ronnie Russell and center Bill Pahlman two each.

The Tigers put up a good effort against St. Martin's highly-rated Yellow Jackets Saturday afternoon, but St. Martin took a big early lead, and the locals could never catch up, St. Martin winning 72-60.

The Yellow Jackets broke on top 17-11 in the first quarter, and increased the margin to 38-20 at halftime. Bay High outscored the host quintet 13-12 in the third period to cut the St. Martin lead to 50-33, and a torrid fourth quarter saw Bay High hitting their season's high for one quarter, 27 points, but St. Martin scored 22 of their own to hold on to win.

Peterson again led the Tigers in scoring with 19 points, but had plenty of support as four Tigers hit in double figures. Junior letterman Schaefer scored 14 as did senior guard Wayne Givens. Center Teddo Thomas, though shooting less than other Bay High players, turned in his best performance of the 1961-62 season with 10 points. Guard Leroy Luke rounded out the scoring with three, all on charity tosses. St. Martin went on to win the tournament Saturday night by defeating Harrison Central 86-85 in a real thriller. The teams were tied 34-34 at halftime, and both scored 45 points in the second half, sending the game into overtime where the Yellow Jackets outscored the Red Rebels 7-6.

From these facts we may see that he drew his information, training and inspiration entirely from Portuguese sources. (Cont. next week.)

Coast History

Original Discovery of Coast Was Before 1500

LAVILLIE BREMER
CHAPTER I

Who was the first European to set eyes on the lands that are washed by the Gulf of Mexico along its northern shore?

What was his nationality, and what year did those things happen?

Most of us think immediately of Don Ponce de Leon, Pineda de Delon, but the coast of Florida, and part of the Gulf Coast west of Florida, had been mapped more than twelve years before Ponce de Leon arrived on the Florida shore in 1513; and, of course, was years ahead of Pineda and DeSoto. The real discovery was made shortly before the year 1500.

We must go back a hundred years before that time if we are to understand what remarkable influence it was that led up to, encouraged, and made possible, the progress in nautical science that resulted suddenly in the discovery of equatorial and south Africa, the islands of the Atlantic, and the Americas, all within the brief space of some fifty years. We will see that the credit is due chiefly to one nation, influenced and taught by one man.

In 1394, to King John of Portugal and his queen Philippa, a son was born who was to be known as Prince Henry the Navigator. As a man he was big of frame, strong limbed, tanned and severe in appearance, though most of his severity he directed toward himself. He was temperate and chaste, with a clean mind and tongue; and at the age of twenty-one he was knighted for valor in the holy war battle with the Moors at the capture of Ceuta. Later he was made Grand Master of the Order of Christ.

As two older brothers stood between him and the throne Henry gave his attention almost exclusively to the study of the mathematical sciences and navigation, intending to devote his life to the exploration of the unknown lands and seas to the south he retired to Sagres, in the south-west corner of Portugal, where he erected an observatory and established a school of navigation and map-making.

In his school were trained the most intelligent, enterprising and daring navigators of Europe; and their discoveries, under his tutelage and inspiration, started the world.

Before Henry's day Cape Nam (now Cape Nun) on the north-west coast of Africa at about 28 degrees 45' north latitude, had been thought to be the end of the world. Even the people of Henry's day believed that the sun's heat beyond this cape was so intense that the sea boiled, and that terrible monsters infested it. But in the face of these imagined dangers Henry's captains, during his life, ventured farther each year until they had reached to within a few degrees of the equator; and, while cruising about in the waters west of Portugal, they discovered several of the Azores, a third of the way across the Atlantic Ocean.

Henry died in the year 1460, but under the patronage of the Portuguese throne he lived on, in the work of his captains; and the whole western coast of Africa was explored. When Diaz, also a Portuguese, discovered the southern cape and rounded it the Portuguese expected so much benefit from the finding of this route to the far East that they called it "The Cape of Good Hope."

Vasco di Gama, another Portuguese, sailing even farther than had Diaz, established on the southern coast of India the first European colony in the far East.

Not content with these achievements the Portuguese later on turned their attention westward, passed the Azores, found the major portions of both continents of America, discovered another cape - the South American - doubled it, crossed the Pacific Ocean and circled the Globe - all within sixty years after Henry's death. Certainly the Portuguese were then the undisputed masters of the navigating world; and Prince Henry's efforts had succeeded far beyond the reach of his own imagination.

Next to the Portuguese, as mariners, came the Italians who, with their background of Roman achievement, plus Portuguese training and inspiration, gained renown and acclaim for themselves and the countries for which they sailed. Christopher Columbus was one of them.

Twenty-two years before Columbus discovered land in the West he had journeyed from Italy to Portugal to join his brother Bartholomew, who was a map-maker in Lisbon. Christopher remained with the Portuguese for fourteen years, spending part of the time in exploring the Adriatic.

CHRISTMAS PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the holiday season approaches in which the Christian world pays tribute to Christ, the Savior, and

WHEREAS, it is indeed fitting on this occasion that we observe our usual duties and rejoice in the spirit that is so kindly by Jesus Christ,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY PROCLAIMED that the City of Bay St. Louis shall set aside the period beginning on the 24th, and extending to and including December 26th, as a time when we may appropriately commemorate the birth of Jesus our Savior.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED AND ORDERED that the schools, and all public buildings be and they are hereby directed to close their doors for the aforementioned period.

K. OF C. NEWS

Charles Poolson, Jr., council activity chairman, announces that there will be a New Year's Eve dance. Members and their guests are cordially invited. Assisting him will be Leroy Luke, William Cavagale, Jake Morreale and Albert N. Grass.

Over 75 members attended Monday night's meeting. Visitors from the Pass Christian Council were: Vincent Raspoli, grand master; Billie Cerves, Lawrence Necaise and Joseph Raspoli.

The new members were introduced to the Council. Rev. Kevin Reid gave a brief address following the meeting.

Immediately following the Council's regular meeting, a meeting of the Home Building Assn. was held. Resolutions were adopted to completely renovate the entire ground floor of the home with the following being named to a construction and insurance committee: Leroy Luke, Earl Ramond, Albert N. Grass, August Rauter, A. J. Monti, Chester Favre, Gustave Thomas and Earl Fayard.

This committee was scheduled to meet Tuesday to complete plans for the second stage of this renovation program.

The initial repairs begun last week on the front entrance and are progressing very rapidly.

A complete revision of the by-laws of the Home Building Assn. will be placed before the membership for adoption at the next meeting on Jan. 8.

A committee to study and revise the present laws was appointed and will submit their recommendations at the next meeting. Serving on this committee are: Lucien Kidd, Warren Buehler, E. J. Marango, Andy Becker, W. J. Bonetemps and Joseph Benvenuti. Particular attention will be given by this group to the leasing, renting or lending of the home, its equipment, etc.

Our sympathies are extended to Ralph Blaize in his recent bereavement.

Lucien Kidd, chairman of the Christmas Party announced that 225 children attended the party Sunday afternoon. Gifts were distributed to each child and the members exchanged gifts. Assisting Lucien were Leroy Luke, Charles Poolson, Wallace Bonetemps, Ed Murtagh, Charles Schindler, J. T. McCaleb, A. J. Monti, and Warren Buehler. Santa arrived at 1 p.m. bringing joy to each child present.

The proceeds of the Flea-Fly Football Classic were distributed equally to the Brother of the Sacred Heart and to the K of C's priest educational program. The council and St. Stanislaus sincerely thank those who assisted. Weather condition reduced the revenue considerably but it was a big moment for the more than 100 youngsters who participated.

Henry Lang, Catholic activity chairman, indicated that he expects to exceed the 100 mark at the next communion on the first Sunday of January. His committee is composed of Carl Arnold, Ed Heitzmann, Chester Favre, Charles Lederer, Gustave Thomas, Maurice Artigues, and Albert Garcia. They have compiled a complete list of the membership with all listed telephones and will call each member the day before each Communion Sunday.

Albert Garcia won the entrance prize at last Monday's meeting. Because of New Year's, the next regular meeting will be on the second Monday.

The Council wishes to extend its sincere appreciation to our local publishers for their splendid cooperation and wish for them, their families and their staff a very Merry Christmas and a Joyful New Year.

Girl Scouts' Toy for Tots Party Is Held

Holiday berries, greens and a large Christmas tree decorated the Fellowship Hall of Main Street Methodist Church when local Girl Scouts held their annual Toys for Tots party last Friday afternoon.

Gifts made by the neighborhood troops were placed beneath the tree, games were played and Mrs. J. B. Goldman accompanied the girls carol singing. Mrs. C. C. McDonald spoke on the true meaning of Christmas and refreshments were served.

Neighborhood scout leaders assisted in preparations for the party. The toys were turned over to the Welfare Department for distribution.

Bay High Holiday Dance Set Friday

At Waveland

Your do-it-yourself Killgallen of Coleman Avenue has spent the best part of the past three days vainly attempting to conjure up an appropriately Christmasy beginning for this week's column—each time we attempted to weave words of cheer, a vision not in the least cheerful appeared before these weary eyes; stacks upon stacks of Christmas cards with hundreds of envelopes chase in their unaddressed whiteness, innumerable unwrapped gifts, hidden beneath every dusty piece of furniture in the house, Thanksgiving arrangements here and there, still unblended piles of fruit cake ingredients and worst of all, boxes of tree ornaments and lights still entangled in bits of last year's tree and icicles—so in very unprofessional fashion, we said the word with it, and proceeded to deal with first things first. . . now gazing at completed cards snug in rubber bands, the enormous cedar tree (courtesy of Bill Favre), glittering with lights and bangles beneath which lay brightly wrapped packages removed from under now dusted furniture, and sniffing the aroma of baking cakes, perhaps we can get the show on the road and let our readers know what's going on around and about town:

About Our Sick Friends

We'll report first on the conditions of Lucille Fayard and Nell Van Culsem, both seriously injured when Nell's automobile was struck by a truck as they returned from Gulfport last Thursday. Nell is recuperating from facial fractures, cuts, bruises, broken ribs and possible internal injuries; Lucille is resting more comfortably, she too has lacerations, bruises, broken ribs in addition to a broken hip socket which cannot be set until her condition will allow an operation. They are patients in Gulfport Memorial Hospital, the accident having occurred in Long Beach near Gulf Park.

While on the subject of hospitals, we'll give out the good news that John Weathers spent the weekend in Waveland and will receive another pass enabling him to enjoy Christmas at home also he's to return to Veterans' in New Orleans for further treatment, but was feeling well enough to do a little repair work on one of his dryers Saturday. Wife Dot looks wonderful and appears to have completely recovered from her recent surgery. Get well wishes also to little Jimmy Varnell who was released from Hancock General last Thursday—he had pneumonia, to Karen (Peanut) White—a victim of the mumps, and to Master Jules Mollere who cut his leg Friday night on the cutting edge of a wrapping paper box. . . he whimpered not, when he was cut, but resented the penicillin needle volubly!

On Caribbean Honeymoon

Having a fabulous honeymoon indeed are newly weds Louise (Ease) Becker Charbonnet and husband Jean. United in a quiet ceremony in New Orleans last Tuesday, Dec. 12, the couple will return to Lakeshore after a Caribbean cruise. Ease selected a dream wardrobe for the trip—They explained the elopement, by stating that the combined grandchildren would have made up quite an entourage. . . and it would have been impossible for all members of their families to attend at this particular season.

Another traveler, Bea Georgi, departed for Rome Thursday—we're booking bets that she manages to appear in at least one picture with the Pope.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Guffy (of the Tennessee Gas Guffys) welcomed a daughter born last Tuesday, Dec. 12, at Hancock General. . . others due to welcome little strangers are Peggy (Mrs. Floyd) Hering who anticipates the stork and santa about the same time, and Betty (Mrs. Donald) Dorn who has quite a few months of eating for two to look forward to!

Betty Ladner was responsible for the lovely yuletide decorations at the Broadway when members of the Lakeshore Garden Club met for their annual Christmas party—Florence Foegele, who had just returned from a visit to Minnesota, and Louise Markey were Betty's co-hostesses. Everyone was quite fancy in hats, furs, and the like—Betty Dorn and Marius Ladner even sported purple dawn camellia corsages on their fur trimmed suits—Elnae Davis wore a bright red costume suit and sisters Gladys Baker and Belle Peterson vied for the most envied hats—Grace Bordages, wearing beige wool, announced an error in November judging of arrangements. . . Ruth Miller's Thanksgiving arrangement was actually the winning entry—she was belatedly presented with the blue ribbon.

Bay Side of the News

Happy, happy birthday to George Stevenson who celebrated quietly on Monday, Dec. 18. Rita and Eddie Blaize continue to fish very much in the best pony express tradition—nor rain, nor sleet, etc. City Commissioner Cyril Glover is bragging about the 25 pounds he's lost on what he swears is a tasty menu.

Members of Waveland Baptist Church held their Christmas party at the Church Sunday night. . .

The shiny white Cadillac parked in front of Villere's Scroll Inn does not belong to a wealthy customer, it's Oswald's Christmas gift to Clarissel The O. H. Williams are also driving a brand new car—a lovely shade of brown, Mr. Williams' comment—“It sure was a hard way to get it” as his other vehicle was demolished and he was badly injured in an accident in Texas last month.

Nertie Burtleigh, just returned to her Clermont Harbor home after several weeks absence, had hardly unpacked her bags when she received word that daughter Shirley was quite ill, and off she dashed to Opelousas—hope we'll hear good news from that quarter soon.

Members of St. Clare's Sodality met at prexy Bessie DeBlanc's home for their annual Christmas party last Friday. . . twenty members exchanged gifts and enjoyed eggnog, cakes and candies.

Santa Visits St. Clare's

Despite icky weather, a large number of starry eyed youngsters and their parents gathered at the Parish Hall to receive gifts from Santa Sunday afternoon. . . the real Santa must have been at work—the driveway, formerly almost impassable was paved with thick, fresh loads of shells—much appreciated by all afoot and a-car. Happy

Lakeshore Gardeners Have Party

Mesdames Clyde Ladner, David Markey and Florence Foegele were co-hostesses when the Lakeshore Garden Club held its annual Christmas party and luncheon last Thursday at Broadview Restaurant.

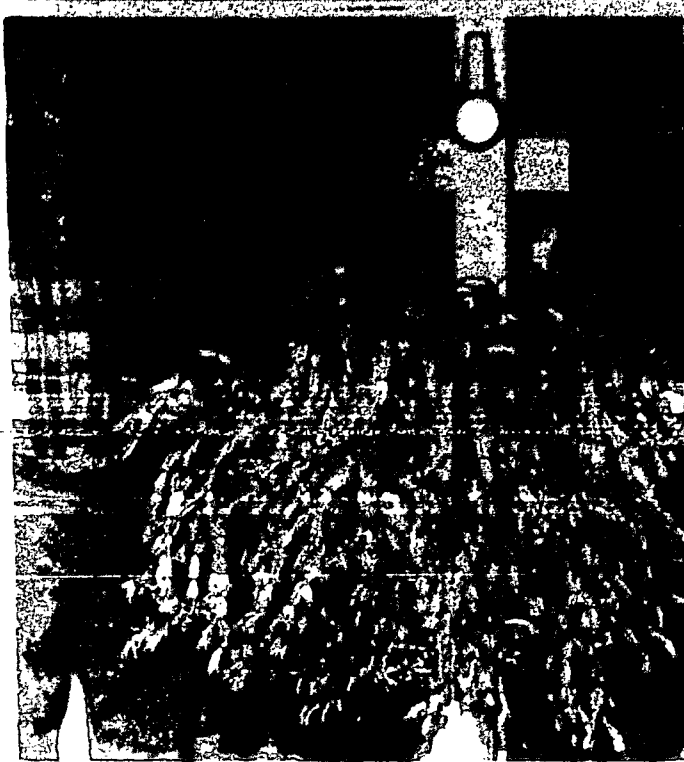

The centerpiece was a Christmas scene featuring Santa, his sled and reindeer, tiny houses surrounded by trees, Christmas ornaments and poinsettias. White candles in holders decorated with snow-sprayed pine and pinecones were used on the tables. Gifts were arranged beneath a Christmas tree, favors were small golden angels.

There was no business meeting, Mrs. Ladner gave the devotional. Mrs. David Casey, who was unable to attend, will receive the trophy for the largest number of blue ribbons during the year. Mrs. Lionel Bordages was presented the small trophy as last year's winner. Mrs. Harry Baurer was awarded the Garden of the Month plaque.

Mrs. A. Richmond won the attendance prize.

In addition to the above mentioned, members attending were Mrs. Donald Dorn, president, Mrs. C. R. Rasmussen, vice-president, Mrs. Bertrand Ladner, secretary, Mrs. Herman Mazaralido, treasurer, Mesdames Will Bordages, Ann Haddison, Ruth Miller, Hamilton Guesard, John Bordages, Charles Peterson, B. C. Davis and Jack Seuzeneau.

Accidents are the nation's fourth greatest killer, says the National Safety Council—but they can be prevented.

CHRISTMAS CACTUS - J. T. Connor views the profusion of timely blossoms on a large Christmas cactus, sometimes locally called crab claw plant, in the greenhouse of his Jeff Davis Ave. home.

Birthday to little Laurie Lynch who was six last Saturday, Dec. 16. Jimmy Lagasse asks that we express his sincere thanks to everyone who helped make the children's party at the parish hall such an overwhelming success. . . Mrs. W. A. Wittlesberger was the lucky lady winning the largest prize connected with the event.

Leaving on Dec. 13, for Panama and a holiday visit with their daughter and family were Mr. and Mrs. William Ford.

We'll bid a reluctant farewell to Fran and Lec Walters who'll be leaving for Baton Rouge in the very near future—Lec has been transferred and they'll move just as soon as they find a suitable new home.

Report on the Diaper Set

Checking up on babies around town—little Hamilton Guesard, IV, has been walking for a week now, and has five whole teeth. . . despite a very small birth weight, Marius and Bert Ladner's first son is gaining steadily—he had his first cold, but it didn't interfere with his appetite. Peggy and Russell Barras also have a new offspring, but forgot to ask particulars, will have a more complete report next week.

As things are going around these parts, if you haven't made your tv debut, you just aren't “with it”—following in the footsteps of Bill Gaudet, the Ballatins and of course, daughter, Paula were members of OLC Parent's Club. . . smiling for the birds were Kitty Mollere, Ann Shippey, Mary Lynn Anley, etc., etc. . . John Benigno has our vote for most photogenic.

We're a bit behind in our bowling news—but think Grace Bordage's 214 is just about tops for local women bowlers. . . anyone having a higher score, please correct us.

Complaint Dept.

This is a very personal gripe—the use of Xmas for Christmas. . . if you must be brief, there are always the alternatives Yule and Noel. . . the x-bit always suggests to us, a tic-tac-toe game!

On the Avenue

Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Russell searching for her favorite fragrance, April Violets — Norman Hall, very comfy in a fuzzy pair of indoor-outdoor slippers—Charlie Ferry preparing to depart for another of his business trips to the big city of New York, Ferd Koenig accompanied by three of the four small Koenigs, Herb Barras, only a shirt (and of course the usual other garments) but costless, on the coldest day yet—his explanation—he sells air conditioners. (no fee for the plug) and the postoffice trio, Thelma, Nona and Gladys wearing their annual “how happy we'll be when we get to the end of the Christmas rush!”

Dot and Manny Hubbard, the children and Dot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Thompson are anticipating a really large Christmas. . . Ann and Donald Levy and Donald, Jr., have arrived from Rochester, Minn., for the holidays. Thelma Dickson is at home once more having spent the last three weeks in New Orleans nursing Charlie's mother, Mrs. Wil-

Mrs. A. Doughty of Glen Doughty entertained members of the Home Demonstration Club Wednesday at their annual Christmas party. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Doughty. The members of the club were entertained by Mrs. Doughty. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Doughty.

Miss Bankston Honored
A lovely surprise shower was given in honor of Miss Janice Bankston last Wednesday night by Mesdames J. Boudage, T. Thum, L. Farnell and Ruth Dick at Methodist Fellowship Hall on the Boulevard. Miss Bankston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Birch Bankston of Clermont, is engaged to be married to Howard Parker of the Bay on Dec. 23. She wore for the shower a tulle dress of navy blue, with shoulder corsage of camellias. White and pink streamers held a transparent umbrella filled with some of the gifts of the 60 well-wishers present, and a large white wedding bell was suspended over the bride table centered with suitably decorated pink and white cake with umbrellas motif. Favors of small umbrellas filled with pink and white mints, petit fours and punch added to the beauty of the refreshment table.

Christmas Card Dilemma
Ever run out of Christmas cards at the last minute? About six years ago I dashed over to Kern's to find the worn out employees leaving and Marguerite ready to lock the door. Very graciously, she helped me pick up a half dozen or so from the depleted stock, checked me out and I hurried home to sign, seal and address them. With only one left I quit long enough to admire its beauty and was horrified—it said "Merry Christmas Dear Grandfather." Frantically pulling up the flaps of those already sealed, all was O. K. till the very last one—it said "Merry Christmas Dear Grandmother."

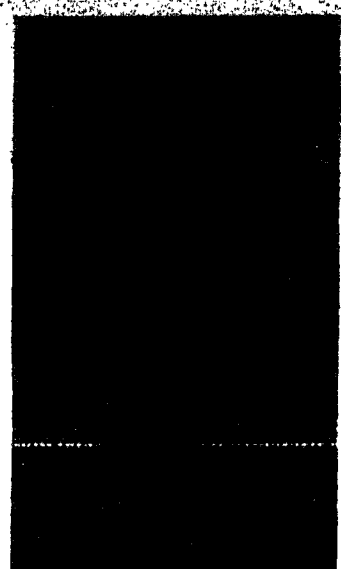

Cake And Candles
To Ruth Miller and Odessa Winkelsberger whose birthday fall on Dec. 23, a happy anniversary to Effie and Bill Tonglet who observed their wedding date on the 21st. Congratulations to all. The Tonglets are devotees of the theater—they braved the elements Tuesday a week ago to attend Petit Theaters. "Send Me No Flowers," which they reported good comedy. Sunday, they and Lillian Richter were my guests at dinner. Sunday night a long distance call came from my friends, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Sam Long of Tupelo, Miss., inviting me to spend Christmas with them. It has been several years since Ruth Miller and I were their weekend guests when we enjoyed a fabulous time full of fun. Their son Sammy Jr., educated as a concert pianist, is an artist in New York, and daughter Genevieve has just had her fifth book published, three of them mysteries.

Get Well Quick
Get well wishes to little Paul Rasmik, recently hospitalized in Hancock General for one of those flash, children's ailments. Mrs. Joe Garcia who has been ill in New Orleans for several months is now a patient in Christian's Rest Home in Gulfport. This being the last column before Christmas my very best wish to—May you have Peace of mind all throughout 1962 and Merry Christmas.

Yule Bazaar, Caroling Is Feature of BWGC Meeting

Christmas caroling and a bazaar occupied members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club at its December meeting last Thursday at the Garden Center on Leona Avenue. Mrs. Al Volger and Mrs. Paul Miller were co-chairmen of the bazaar which featured an assortment of articles made by the membership which were sold to members and their guests for Christmas presents. It is hoped to repeat the bazaar next year. Mrs. R. F. Gray, president, conducted a brief business session and Mrs. Waldo Otis, membership chairman, introduced as new members Mrs. Ben Hille, Jr., Mrs. Hoyt Holland and Mrs. J. Cyril Glover. Miss Barbara Gray and Mrs. Ben Peters led the group afterwards in singing carols.

Refreshments and decorations followed the holiday theme and each member present was presented with a camellia. Mrs. Frank Embrey was hostess and was assisted in her duties by Mesdames Hugh Miller, A. G. Dantagan, Rudolph Vorbusch, Herbert Baron, Frank Manning, Ruth Luderbach, Myron Smith, C. R. Beyer, Gray, Gordon Gleim, Hilda Ogden and Miss Barbara Gray. The Clermont Harbor club was represented by Mesdames K. Kingsley, J. P. Rousseau, R. Doughty, K. S. Rasmik, J. C. Goodell, L. Mayan and N. Burdett; from Flatop were Mesdames J. Fargarson, M. G. Eccles, I. Knight, O. J. Galpi, V. G. Cade, W. A. Gasper and Maude Wheat, and from Bayou LaCrosse club were Mrs. Dorlette, Mrs. D. Wainwright and Mrs. L. Ladner.

MISS SUE OLIVER
Miss Oliver Is Betrothed To Texan

Of interest here where the bride-elect is widely related is the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Sue Oliver of Arcadia, Tex., to Walter Seyfert, III, of Houston, Tex. Miss Oliver is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Oliver of Arcadia. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Annie Oliver and Mark Oliver of Bay St. Louis and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bourgeois of Waveland.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seyfert, Jr., of Odessa, Tex. The marriage will be solemnized Friday, Dec. 29.

Cedar Point Church Scene Of Page-Thornton Nuptials

Cedar Point Methodist Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding at 3 p.m. Sunday of Miss Ethel Marie Thornton to James William Page. Arrangements of white roses were used on the altar before which Rev. John O. Cuevas officiated at the single ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thornton and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Page. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an aqua blue coat suit with a white veiled hat and white camellias at the shoulder. She carried a white Bible. Miss Delores Ann Thornton, her sister's only attendant, chose a two-piece suit of aqua with a pink camellia corsage and a white feathered hat.

1962 Spring Pilgrimage Schedule is Announced

The 15th annual spring pilgrimage of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs will make its stop in the Bay-Waveland area on Thursday, March 22, the host Bay-Waveland Garden Club has announced. Three homes will be open to visitors on the occasion with visits to local churches on innovation on the program this year and an antique lamp and clock show with a tea climaxed the tour at the Garden Center, 116 Leona Avenue. The tour will begin once again with coffee from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the rumpus room of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Briggs' estate at 920 South Beach Blvd. Pilgrims will go next to the orchards of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Stern at 370 Beach Blvd., Waveland where thousands of fruit-bearing grapevines, orange, banana and kiwifruit trees have been planted in addition to a large number of rare camellias and azalea plants on the grounds. The Waveland home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leaven at 612 Beach Blvd., will be the next stop. Visitors will view the huge living room with its beamed ceiling, immense fireplace and the lovely garden. Luncheon will be served from noon to 1:30 p.m. at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club at $1.75 each. Reservations must be made in advance with Mrs. Reuben Gray, 1346 North Beach Blvd., HO-76781, or Mrs. R. J. Treuhaft, pilgrimage co-chairman, 130 St. Charles St. HO-74413. All churches will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. on pilgrimage day to give visitors an opportunity to meditate and give thanks for the beautiful country and freedom of worshiping in the church of our choice. The history of each church will be available in the vestibules. Members of the host club will serve tea from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Garden Center where the lamp and clock show will conclude the tour. The 1961 pilgrimage will open March 17 with that day's stops sponsored by the Beach Garden Society. Pascagoula will be the scene of March 18's pilgrimage while the tour continues to Gulfport, March 21; Bay-Waveland, March 22; Biloxi, March 24; Long Beach, March 25, and Pass Christian, March 29.

Waveland Notes

BY CECILE TURCOTTE
Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bourgeois spent Wednesday evening in Biloxi visiting their son-in-law and daughter, S/Sgt. and Mrs. Cobb. They joined the Cobbs and their daughters, Christy, Sandy, Kathy and Sharon in celebrating Mrs. Cobb's birthday.

Invitations have been received here from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oliver of Galveston, Texas, to the marriage of their daughter, Sue Oliver and Walter Seyfert, III, to be solemnized Friday, Dec. 29.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Rega who celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary on Sunday, Dec. 17.

Mrs. George Mangum and children left on Tuesday via air from the Philippine Islands where they will join Lt. Mangum, U. S. Air Force, and will reside in the future.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Eddie Fayard and Mrs. W. F. Van Calsem who are patients at the Gulfport Memorial Hospital due to an automobile accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson will leave Sunday for Baton Rouge, La., where they will spend of town relatives and guests attending were the bride's uncle and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson of Kenner, La.

Pass Gets Revenge Over BHS

Pass Christian gained revenge Friday night for an early season setback by downing the Bay High Tigers 66-46, despite a 26-point performance by Tiger star guard Ronnie Peterson.

The Tigerettes saw a three-game winning streak snapped in the middle game of a triple-header when the scoring touch they had shown in trouncing Ocean Springs, North Central and East Central. Carol Bourgeois scored 20 points to lead Bay High scorers. Judy Koolenberger was the game's top scorer with 21 points and Pass High's Henrietta Wesovich scored 18. The loss lowered the Tigerette season record to 3-2. Pass Christian has suffered but one defeat.

The Tigerettes were behind nearly all the way in their game and didn't quite have the scoring touch they had shown in trouncing Ocean Springs, North Central and East Central. Carol Bourgeois scored 20 points to lead Bay High scorers. Judy Koolenberger was the game's top scorer with 21 points and Pass High's Henrietta Wesovich scored 18. The loss lowered the Tigerette season record to 3-2. Pass Christian has suffered but one defeat.

Pass High fell behind in the early going in the feature boys game, but the Pirate defense stopped everyone except Peterson and Pass High broke open a close game with a 27-point production in the fourth period.

Bay High took an 11-8 first quarter lead, but went cold in the second stanza and fell behind 22-17 at halftime. Both teams scored good in the third quarter and the Pirate quintet led 39-33 going into the fourth period when Pass High outscored the Tigers 27-13 to win going away.

Peterson was the only Tiger in double figures. Forward Richard Schaefer scored eight points, guard Wayne Giveens tallied five, guard Leroy Liden added three, forward Ronnie Russell and center Teddo Thomas both clipped in with two.

Junior High Rocks Defeat Gulfview 22-17

St. Stanislaus' Junior High Captains used a big first quarter to defeat Gulfview 22-17 Tuesday afternoon at Stanislaus gym. Coach Buddy Pitolo's quintet took an 11-4 lead and weren't headed.

After the red-hot first quarter, the shooting went off and the Rock eighth graders outscored Gulfview 2-1 in the second quarter to lead 12-5 at halftime.

Gulfview still had trouble hitting the basket in the third quarter and SSC increased its lead to 20-9 going to the fourth period. Gulfview rallied for eight points in the final stanza but couldn't catch up.

William Duell of Stanislaus led both teams in scoring with 11 points. Touchet of Gulfview scored nine and the Rockchaws' Vincent Cuevas tallied seven.

Tigerettes, SJA Lose in Semi-Final

Bay High and St. Joseph's girls hoop squads lost games Saturday afternoon in semi-finals action in the St. Martin Basketball Tournament in Biloxi. Both squads won first round games, but Harrison Central and St. Martin beat the two local sextets in the semi-finals.

Bay High posted an easy 44-26 win over East Central in first round play Thursday night. The Tigerettes were in command all the way, having scoring troubles only in the third quarter.

Bay High grabbed a 16-8 lead in the first quarter, but led only 22-16 at halftime. The Tigerettes increased their advantage to 35-22 after three quarters and held East Central to four points in the fourth quarter to win handily.

Carol Bourgeois scored 22 points to pace the Tigerette attack. Glenda Kennedy also scored well, picking up 17 markers.

SJA because of the pairings, had to play two games before reaching the semifinals and the Gold Jays won both. Ocean Springs fell to the locals 64-37 Wednesday night in the tournament opener. St. Joseph led 17-9 after one quarter, poured 20 points through the baskets in the second period to lead 37-19 at halftime, increased the margin to 55-32 after three quarters and played reserves the final quarter.

Mary Jo Krieger scored 20 points to lead St. Joseph scorers. Cassie Rhodes was close behind with 19 and Judy Favre also hit double figures with 10 points.

The Gold Jays ran into rougher opposition Friday night in second-round play, but emerged victorious 44-38. Mary Jo Krieger again led the St. Joseph scoring parade with 16 points, but had ample support from Cassie Rhodes and Judy Favre who got 14 apiece.

St. Joseph was edged Saturday afternoon by Harrison Central in the semi-finals. The Red Rebel sextet scored a 53-49 win despite a 32-point performance by Mary Jo Krieger. Judy Favre was the only other Gold Jay hitting twin figures, scoring 13.

Bay High lost Saturday afternoon to eventual champion St. Martin. The host team, with only one loss, to SJA, marring their record, whipped the Tigerettes 57-44. Carol Bourgeois had 15 points for the local sextet and Glenda Kennedy was close behind with 13. St. Martin's Toni Teretto was the game's leading scorer with 26 points.

St. Martin won the tourney Saturday night by downing Harrison Central 53-49.

Legion Juniors Have Yule Fete

The junior group of the American Legion auxiliary met Monday at the Legion Home for a Christmas party.

Members exchanged gifts and sang carols. Miss Jeanie Rutherford read several Christmas story selections.

The group also packed a box of Christmas stocking and scrap books for the children's ward at the sanatorium in Magee.

LOGTOWN GIRLS WON INVITATIONAL TOURNEY

Slidell, Logtown Teams Win Grammar Cage Play

By HENRY OTIS
Special Staff Writer

The Slidell boys and the Logtown girls won the annual Logtown Grammar School Invitational Tournament Saturday night in the Logtown School gym. This kept the Logtown girls' record intact with just one loss suffered this season to date.

The boys' game scores in the first round resulted in the following: Slidell defeated Gulfview 45 to 34, with J. Morton leading the scoring for the winners with 14 points, and Ladner top-scorer for the losers with three points. North Bay Elementary beat Baxterville 36 to 28, with Carver tallying 15 points for North Bay, and C. Ripson scoring 11 points.

Harrison Central was victorious over Pearl River Central 35-15 when Farnes Ladner scored 16 points for the Harrison Central team, and Gary Smith could only rack up eight points for the losers. Ronnie Davis led the host team with 16 points in the Logtown-St. Stanislaus clash, with Logtown winning 49 to 26. William Duell led SSC with 9 points.

The semi-finals found North Bay writing final to the hopes of Harrison Central when Bilbo led his team with 14 points to a 40-23 victory, with Paul Wyrodick leading the losers. Slidell defeated Logtown 32-25 in a tight contest, with the score in doubt up to the last minute when the winners sank three field goals in succession. J. Morton again led his team to victory with 17 points, while Ronnie Davis repeated as high scorer for Logtown with 10 points.

The consolation game found Harrison Central winning over Logtown 50 to 36, with Northrop making 14 points, while Ronnie Davis scored 20. J. Morton's 18 points brought victory for Slidell 35 to 25 in the final game, while strong tallied 13 points for North Bay.

In the girls' first round play, Sharon Canulette with 15 points led Slidell to a 32-17 victory over Gulfview, with Lafontaine scoring seven points for the losers. Baxterville, led by Barbara Smith's eight points, defeated North Bay 25-16, with Patsy Perrillaro getting seven points for the Bay team. Pearl River Central downed Harrison Central 27-20 with Rita Jarrell's 12 points for the winners, and E. Ladner's eight points for the Harrison County sextette. Logtown drew a bye the first round.

In the semi-finals Elaine Kelly of Logtown made 14 points against S. Canulette's eight, to lead Logtown to a 29-15 win. M. Kennedy's 13 points helped Pearl River Central win over Baxterville 24-14, with Barbara Smith racking up six points for
